

flux simulator .pro file

Is there an option, that would generate reads from the .pro file, defined by a user?

Say, I have a .pro file in the right format (say, by tweacking the file produced by the flux-simulator) and want the next simulation to be done according to this file.

I didn't find such option in the description, did I miss it or there is no such option at the moment?

Thanks